Welcome to Wadsworth!

The 2019 Wadsworth Magazine & Community Guide

is here! This valuable source of information is updated yearly for our residents and for those who might visit. Interested individuals can find convenient access to excellent health care, superb schools, a variety of professional services, numerous grocery stores and popular shopping opportunities, as well as many locations in which to relax, stay healthy and have fun.

Wadsworth is one of the fastest growing cities in northeast Ohio. For a community of our size, Wadsworth offers an unusually wide array of services to the residents and businesses. Wadsworth's municipally owned electric, cable, internet, water, sewer, trash and phone services set us apart from many other cities, making us truly unique. Our internet services feature new, faster speeds to residential customers and speeds up to 1 Gig for businesses! This year, we are providing data storage services to help businesses with their off-site storage needs.

Last year, we completed the Downtown Revitalization Grant program to help and encourage downtown businesses to invest in their buildings. A streetscape improvement plan is being created this year to improve and redevelop the public spaces in the area, with construction estimated to begin next year. At the north end of town, the widening of High Street makes travel to businesses and SR-76 quick and efficient. And on the east end of town, Wadsworth Crossings provides several shopping opportunities, with more development planned in the near future. Just south of town, The Village of St. Edward opened a beautiful new senior living facility.

We continue working to attract businesses that will help support the community's economy and infrastructure, while recognizing the value and importance of preserving the smaller businesses that are the backbone of our town. Whether you are looking for a homey café for breakfast or lunch, a more sophisticated dining experience or a variety of shopping choices, Wadsworth has what you're looking for. I invite you to come see our City on the First Friday evening of each month in the downtown square. See for yourself what makes Wadsworth 'A Community Unmatched'. Additional information can be found on the City's website at www.wadsworthcity.com, where you will also find links to Facebook, Instagram and Twitter, and the opportunity on the home page to sign up for emergency alerts from the Wireless Emergency Alert System (WENS).

A Community Unmatched

Wadsworth is a “community unmatched,” says Robert Patrick, Director of Public Service, a phrase that was adopted in 2018 as the city’s new tag line. The pun plays on Wadsworth’s rich industrial history, most popularly represented by the old Ohio Match Co. whose factory was, at one time, the largest in the world, producing more than 300 million wooden and paper safety matches each day. The massive plant closed in 1987 but is still celebrated each June at the five-day Blue Tip Festival.

“We are a very welcoming community with a lot to offer,” Patrick says. “People who have lived here all their lives are very open to newcomers who bring fresh ideas and new ways of thinking. Everybody feeds on the energy that we’re creating here.”

Robert Patrick,
Director of Public Services

Wadsworth’s location, Patrick says, is convenient for residents who commute to larger cities to work and a distinct advantage for local businesses. “Being right on I-76 and very close to I-71, we have highway access to anywhere,” he says. “We’re only 20 minutes from the Akron-

Canton Airport and only 35 minutes from Cleveland Hopkins International Airport.”

Meanwhile, he says, Wadsworth touts a robust park system and a lot of wonderful recreational opportunities.

“Over the years, city leaders have tried to be at the forefront of innovative ideas to service the community and allow us to function independently as a city.”

— Robert Patrick, Director of Public Services

“We have an excellent school district with high ratings,” he adds.

Those, he suggests, are just a few of the reasons why Wadsworth has been one of the fastest growing cities in Ohio over the past several years. “One of the things that makes us truly unique is that the city provides all of the utilities to residents and business, including electric, water, sewer, trash collection, internet and cable television, all on a single bill,” Patrick says.

The city has owned and operated its own electric distribution system since 1916. Local ownership, the city says, insures a greater commitment to service for residential, commercial and industrial users while providing lower rates, a voice in our power supply portfolio, unique service options, and award-winning reliability. Residents can save more money by participating in voluntary "Peak Rewards," a program that regulates power usage during peak times using a programmable thermostat, and the "Right Time Pricing" program that offers lower rates for using power during off-peak times.

"Over the years, city leaders have tried to be at the forefront of innovative ideas to service the community and allow us to function independently as a city," Patrick says. "Our municipally-operated cable, internet and voice service, CityLink, is very reliable and offers high-speed internet access up to 1 GIG. This year we further expanded our unique offerings by opening our datacenter that provides offsite co-location of critical hardware for local companies and organizations."

The City also operates its own television station which not only provides local coverage of government and school events and activities but also allows residents to produce their own content free of charge. WCTV's studio

"We have one of the highest programming rates in the country for municipal TV stations," Patrick boasts. "We have produced more shows than cities like Cincinnati." WCTV's annual 'Clapper Awards' recognizes the station's best programming throughout the year.

The past several years have also seen an accelerated focus on community activities and a greater emphasis on the Historic Downtown district. Among the new programs is First Fridays, which debuted in January 2018. "The events are held Downtown on the first Friday of each month from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m.," Patrick explains. "Main Street Wadsworth's Executive Director, Adrienne Krauss, created the event series with a different theme each month and most of the Downtown businesses stay open and participate. It has really been a wonderful way for the entire community to come together on a monthly basis."

As most Wadsworth residents know, Mayor Robin Laubaugh was chosen as the 2018 Ohio Mother of the Year, awarded by American Mothers Inc., a national organization that is the official sponsor of Mother's Day and each year honors a mother from all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Robin is well-known for her dynamic leadership roles and community service on countless projects. heritage and keeps it going from year to year," Patrick says. "It starts with a Tuesday night parade that is the second largest in Ohio, followed by the lighting of a 20-foot blue tip match that lights downtown during the festival's duration. A 5K, 10K and a half marathon have been incorporated into the festival during the last couple years."

Downtown revitalization is another initiative that will preserve the city's history while planning for the future, Patrick says. "After a period of suburban sprawl, there is a movement where many people want to return to a city center," he says. "People want walkability and small local shops. So we are working to preserve the history and charm but also to upgrade the infrastructure and make sure that it's an inviting place that businesses want to come into. The plan is to expand green space with a Downtown park, and the goal is for more people to come Downtown to enjoy the activities."

Extending its recreational opportunities, the city last year opened the two-mile Interurban Trail, a new bike and hike trail that connects the Downtown area with the southeast corner of the city. It includes a new park, 'Trolley Line Park,' with a reserve-able house. Eventually, Patrick says, the path may connect to the Ohio & Erie Canal Towpath Trail. Summing up the new projects in progress throughout Wadsworth, Patrick says, "It really is exciting to be a part of what is happening here," he said.

IT'S OFFICIAL: Wadsworth held a ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the Interurban Trail that connects Downtown with the southeast corner of the city.

C H R I S T I A N

"I began my journey as the pastor of Northside Christian Church 35 years ago," states Pastor Robin Hart. "Throughout this journey, my Northside family and I have experienced a lot of life with many individuals. We have seen such great joy in weddings and births; we have seen children become adults and start their own families. But we have also counseled those who are struggling with their marriage or with finances; we have grieved with those who have lost loved ones."

Each and every one of us is on a life journey, and every journey starts somewhere. If your journey is currently full of joy or full of frustration, whether you are already firmly committed to following Christ or searching to find out who He is - no matter where you are, Northside is a family that would love to join you on your journey.

The Jerry McClain Group THE INN AT COALRIDGE

The McClain Group came into Wadsworth with a recipe for success. Founded in Newark, Ohio in 1966, Jerry McClain's vision was to develop and build custom homes and buildings of quality for both the public and private sectors. Then, in 1986, Bev Donaldson, Jerry's daughter and a registered nurse, shared her vision for senior living with her Dad. In November of 1987, they built the first free-standing assisted living facility in the state of Ohio. Along with superior care, their goal was to build custom facilities that delivered warmth and security for seniors. Since then, 20 premier assisted living facilities have been constructed, including The Inn at CoalRidge, which opened in August of 2012.

At The Inn at CoalRidge, they are committed to delivering the best in senior assisted living. Their caring, professional and friendly team ensures that each resident receives the utmost in personalized care and services. Become a part of the family.. at a place you'd love to call home!

Church for People who don't think Church is for them

“Wadsworth doesn't need another church.” Its been said many times. And maybe they kind of agree. There ARE a lot of churches—for church people. There are a lot of churches for people who grew up in church, know a lot about the Bible, and feel like they have a close relationship with God. And they are great churches. But at Mosaic, they feel a calling to something a little different—to be a church for people who didn't grow up in church, don't know a lot about the Bible, and maybe aren't sure about God.

“So, if you haven't been to church in a long time (or ever), if you are skeptical about Jesus, or if you feel drawn to something bigger but are nervous about feeling judged or rejected by “religious” people—you should check us out. We built this place for you!”

Services are held at Wadsworth High School Performing Arts Center at 625 Broad Street in Wadsworth.

Summa Health Primary Care Your Trusted Advisor

Most people associate going to the doctor with being sick or injured. However, even the healthiest adults should see a primary care provider regularly to best manage their health.

Primary care physicians (PCPs) serve on the front lines of healthcare. Many times, they are the first point of contact with the healthcare system. That means they are often the first to see depression, early signs of cancer or chronic disease, and other health concerns. They ensure patients get the right care, in the right setting, by the most appropriate provider. In fact, studies have shown that adults in the U.S. who have a primary care provider have lower odds of premature death, compared to those who only see specialists for their care.

Regularly seeing your PCP can also keep you out of the emergency room, which is often more expensive. For those individuals with a chronic condition, such as high blood pressure, diabetes or arthritis, a PCP can help manage these conditions, schedule the appropriate tests and help keep patients on track and feeling their best.

Finally, your PCP knows you best. Establishing a relationship with your primary care doctor over the years allows you to have comfortable conversations about your health, and they can recognize when you are not at your best and intervene as needed. They become a trusted confidant in your health.

Looking for a primary care doctor? Our team can help. Call 888-905-6071 to make an appointment.

Special Gift in Memory of Muriel Posey Supports Music Therapy Program

Music has long been part of one's life and often brings back happy memories and boosts the overall quality of life. As we age, gerontologists say, the benefits of music may be even greater.

The Village residents participate in weekly music-related activities designed to reduce isolation, provide creative expression and build community. Both passive and active music therapy can provide benefits and aid in socialization.

Dementia is a neurocognitive disorder that impacts a person's mood and memory. Many feel anxious and frustrated. Music can alleviate that frustration. "Mom has difficulty communicating," said a resident's daughter, "but she remembers songs. Today, she smiled and sang every word of the Andrews Sisters' 'Apple Blossom Time' with the music therapist."

Residents, caregivers know, may be able to sing, clap, or whistle long after they are unable to communicate with words. "Music helps unlock memories to reach parts of the brain in ways other communication cannot," said Stephanie Wilkerson, Director of Memory Care.

A recent gift from Ray Posey, honoring the life of his mother, has resulted in increased frequency of visits from a certified music therapist. "Music was an important part of my mother's life, and she loved living at The Village," said Posey.

To partner with The Village of St. Edward in a special way, contact Vondea Sheaffer, VP of Development at 234-466-0556 or vondea.sheaffer@vsecommunities.org.

What to Expect During Your Pet's Annual Exam

Regular visits to your veterinarian are important because pets can't tell you how they're feeling and you can't always tell when they're sick. Your veterinarian will perform a physical exam and may test your pet's blood, urine, and feces, to compare the results with a previous year for possible health changes.

Tests can include: a complete blood count (CBC) which shows if your pet has an infection, inflammation, or is anemic; a complete blood chemistry panel including electrolytes and SDMA which provides information about your pet's liver, kidneys, pancreas, blood sugar, and hydration; a urinalysis to identify infection or inflammation in your pet's urinary tract; a fecal test to identify infections caused by worms in your pet's intestines; and a thyroid function test to show if your pet's thyroid gland is functioning properly.

Talk with your veterinarian about scheduling your pet's next exam. Dr. Arends and Dr. Young and the staff at Wadsworth Veterinary Hospital welcome new patients and are dedicated to providing excellent care! Call them at 330-335-4311 to learn more.

Community Needs are Top Priority for the Wadsworth Public Library

Throughout 2018, Wadsworth Public Library worked through a detailed examination of needs for library services in our community. The process involved broad input from the public, staff, and Board of Trustees and a future-oriented review of the arrangement of the library building itself. In support of this work, the firm Williams Architects was hired by the Board of Trustees to conduct a study in order to determine long term building repair and maintenance costs and to better understand the way the building is being used by patrons. The results of these strategic planning and building analysis activities will help the Library to build on recent improvements to its children's area by guiding the future direction of over-all library service and the layout of the remaining sections of the facility.

Meeting both the traditional and evolving needs of our community is a top priority for Wadsworth Public Library. For more information, visit www.wadsworthlibrary.org.

What are my Veterans Benefits?

By Edward Zackery

Veterans of the United States Uniformed Services

may be eligible for a broad range of programs and services provided by the Federal Government and the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) as well as various state and local governments. In most cases, eligibility for most benefits is based upon discharge from active military service other than dishonorable conditions. State and local benefits can sometimes be more complex and have other criteria associated with their eligibility such as residence requirements, service connection for a disability, receipt of a certain medal or award and in some cases income. In all cases, each veteran must be assessed for eligibility independently from their peers. No two veterans are alike when it comes to veterans benefits. Although several benefits can be cast across a broad demographic of veterans there are those benefits that are specifically designed to help our most at-risk veterans.

Federal Government (VA) benefits include disability compensation, veterans pension, medical, education and training, vocational rehabilitation and employment, home loan and life insurance.

State of Ohio benefits include Ohio Veterans Homes (Ohio has two veterans' homes in Georgetown and Sandusky), Ohio Veterans Bonus Program, state tax exemptions, Homestead Exemption, Military Injury Relief Fund (MIRF), financial assistance (from county office), state employment, Ohio Educator License Fee Elimination, Ohio National Guard Scholarship Program, Ohio War Orphans Scholarship, the Ohio Promise and recreation benefits such as Disabled Veteran Recreational Benefits, hunting & fishing licenses, boating licenses & registration, camping at Ohio state parks, active duty hunting and fishing licenses and camping discounts at Ohio state parks.

Wadsworth Area Chamber of Commerce

*Striving to stimulate economic growth,
by providing a voice
for the business

Janie Parish, Executive Director, and Mike Reynolds, Board
President, Wadsworth Area
Chamber of Commerce

The Wadsworth Area Chamber of Commerce, incorporated in 1954, exists to help grow new businesses, expand existing businesses and partner with the community. With 400 members, the Chamber is a strong partner for individuals, businesses and organizations to meet the changing needs of our economy. We consistently strive to develop benefits that help our members save on their bottom line, offer value-added educational programs, provide assistance to help you network, grow, and succeed. Your investment in this Chamber gives you choices for many benefits - business showcases, monthly membership meetings, Business-After-Hours, web page presence, bulk mailing discounts, member-to-member discounts, a weekly newsletter, affordable and targeted advertising and, especially, networking.

The Chamber believes in the importance of community partnerships by volunteering with other organizations, and hosting "Come Home for the Holidays," a shop local program, and "The Easter Basket Scholarship Auction," to create scholarships for Wadsworth High School graduating seniors.

Working together with the other Medina County Chambers, we now have a great selection of county-wide umbrella programs: Member-to-Member Discount Program, legislative programs, health care discount premiums plans, worker compensation programs and Safety Council for discount BWC premiums.

Steve Anshutz, Anshutz Movers, was awarded the 2019 Rosie Award for Business of the Year

Gotta Have Art

Maia Edwards, a Sacred Heart of Jesus School student, was selected as the winner of the 6th grade art competition for the 2019 Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Art, Essay & Multimedia Contest. This competition was sponsored by the Ohio Civil Rights Commission with support from PNC, Honda of America, and Wright State University. Sacred Heart art teacher, Mrs. Andrea Lindner, submitted her students' colored pencil drawings which were among hundreds of entries from around the state submitted for this year's contest. Maia and the other winners from each grade level presented their entries and received their awards at a ceremony and reception held on February 28 at the Ohio History Center in Columbus. Congratulations, Maia!
